

Who May Attend

Blue Mountain Elementary School is open for all to attend.

We are a Bible-based Christian school, affiliated with an organization dating back to 1863. Our school is funded in large by the Seventh-day Adventist Church and by private donors. Being a Christian or a member of the Seventh-day Adventist Church is not a requirement. We do offer financial benefits for members of Blue Mountain Academy, Hamburg Community, and Anchor Pointe Seventh-day Adventist Churches.

Our school maintains high academic and citizenship standards. We do not specialize in severe cases of learning disabilities. We do, however, consult with local school districts utilizing the local Intermediate Unit who provide in-school special services.

Enrollment Procedure

1. Complete an application (Registration) form
2. Complete the yellow card for emergency contact and medical/insurance information
3. Provide verification of age at the time of entrance (i.e. birth certificate)
4. Provide evidence that the child meets current Pennsylvania immunization and Health requirements (see Health Requirements)
5. Submit pertinent educational records (i.e. report card)
6. Fill out a request form for records from transferring school, if applicable
7. Each prospective student and parent must be interviewed by the Homeroom Teacher and/or the Principal
8. Pay the required Registration Fee upon enrollment.
9. In some circumstances, upon request, each prospective student may be given a readiness test to determine suitability for admission into the regular school program or reading/math or grade level.
10. In some circumstances, upon request, provide names and addresses of three (3) individuals for reference. One must be a former teacher and one a pastor.
